Widgets, Mashups, Tags, Feeds...

All of these Web 2.0 technologies give you power to manage and share information. But the real power comes from putting them all together!

This session will give you a solid understanding of how the different elements of Web 2.0 can be mixed, merged, and displayed.

This is a hands-on practical workshop. The instructor will guide the class through Web 2.0 sites including Twitter, Delicious, Yelp, LastFM and Friendfeed, and show how they can all be tied together in ways that save you time, and help you discover, manage, and share information.

Additionally, this class will teach you how to easily syndicate (or redisplay) information in many different places, and create websites that dynamically update with new information--without ever having to log in and edit!
